ABSTRACTS NEEDED!!!

Tips on preparing abstract for SOSORT 2015

By Eric Parent, PT, PhD, Schroth and BSPTS therapist,

Rehabilitation Medicine at University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

At the core of interesting conferences are the scientific results presented by the clinicians and researchers in attendance. Many SOSORT members and clinicians offering conservative treatments for scoliosis have amazing research and clinical results of interest to the community. Consider this message a call for you to submit summaries of such results for our upcoming conference. Your results should be shared and knowledge translations should occur. This short newsletter update aims to motivate you to submit your results for presentations and provide you with tips on preparing a good abstract.

'A good abstract tells the reader in 250 words all he/she needs to know!'
